Dear Friends,

Praise the Lord!

In the end of September and much of the month of October I had the wonderful privilege to minister in the amazing island country of Iceland. It was time of great blessing and filled with adventure. The excellent arrangements made it possible for me to share in services in all corners of the country. Many of the assemblies were very small groups and difficult to reach except by air. In every place, however, it was a great joy to bring hope and encouragement to these precious people.

Unique scenery in Iceland

Iceland is a unique land filled with geysers, volcanoes, glacier-covered mountains, sheep farms, and a few people (!!)

It is not extremely cold, just never warm. I was glad for my Canadian winter coat especially when we landed in a snowstorm!

It was my privilege to pray with some for salvation, where in other places we could water the seeds that had been sown by faithful believers for months or years. In the town of Hufn for example, a young lady who was too shy to come forward, told her friend that she would like prayer. She opened her heart that night, and now the Holy Spirit will cause the seed of His word to grow. In the remote city Isafiodur as well as the international city of Keflavik there were also those who came for prayer for salvation.

Service in Reykjavik

I was very grateful for the opportunities to minister both on radio and television—outreach with capacity to reach nearly the entire nation, as well as globally via the satellite network and internet.

Flying to various centers

Many told how the Word of God brought them refreshing and encouragement. I also heard amazing testimonies of people who were saved and healed in the services when I had last been in this country sixteen years ago.

The Lord willing I will be ministering in several centers in Belgium during the month of November. In these outreach campaigns, I am expecting dozens of people to come to Christ. Your prayer support is greatly appreciated.

	13-17	Mouscron	Pastor C. Millecamps

Your interest in this ministry, which you have expressed through your letters and financial gifts, is a great encouragement. It is my earnest desire to bring hope to many people by pointing them to Jesus. Thank you for assisting me with your support.

In Christ,

Anita Pearce

P.S. In 1 Corinthians 1:18 Apostle Paul declares, "...the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness; but unto us which are saved it is the power of God." The message of the cross has always provoked mockery and offence. For some it seems simplistic, for others, tragic. It always offends those who trust in their personal morality for righteousness. The cross presents humanity with an undeniable dilemma and decision. Ultimately, however, it provides the only way of salvation.

The message of the death, resurrection and eternal Lordship of Jesus alone can transform the human heart. Through repentance and faith, the message of the cross brings forgiveness for our sins, freedom from sin's grip, and fulfillment in God's eternal purposes.
